Voting in Tribal Communities

Voter Registration

- Online Registration: Visit IWillVote.com to check if online registration is available in your state. When registering, remember to register using the physical location of your home, even if you receive mail at a P.O. box.
- Mail-in Registration: You can obtain a voter registration form from your local election office, Department of Motor Vehicles, or the many state offices that provide public assistance.
- Eligibility Requirements: To register to vote, you must be at least 18, a U.S. citizen, and meet your state's residency requirements. Some states have additional requirements or necessary documents. Check your state's requirements at IWillVote.com.

Early, Absentee, and Election Day Voting

- In-Person Voting: Some states require ID to vote. Acceptable ID varies by state and may include a driver's license, Tribal ID card, or other government-issued documents. Check your state's requirements at IWillVote.com.
- Early/Absentee Voting: Early and absentee voting is often available for voters who are unable to vote in person on Election Day. You can request an absentee ballot or find an early voting place at IWillVote.com.
- Ballot Collection: Due to geographic remoteness, many Native voters rely on ballot collection. Call the DNC's Voter Protection Hotline at 1-833-336-8683 for information about your state.

Voting Rights and Resources

- Obstacles to Voting: Native American voters have the right to cast their ballots free from discrimination or intimidation. If you encounter any barriers to voting or if you just have a question, contact the DNC's Voter Protection Hotline at 1-833-336-8683.
